Kerr, and Tina Xu, “Personality Traits of Entrepreneurs: A Review of Recent Literature,” Working Paper 24097, National Bureau of Economic Research, December 2017: “In a meta-analysis of 14 studies, Stewart and Roth (2001) find that the risk propensity of entrepreneurs is greater than that of managers. This conclusion is challenged, for example, by Miner and Raju (2004), who present data from 14 other studies that used projective techniques to measure risk preferences rather than self-report measures.”
